D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>In order to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies, the statistics for some industries (4-digit) and industry groups (3-digit) are not shown. Industries and industry groups reporting less than 100 employees are also omitted. They are included, however, in the appropriate major industry group (2-digit) lines and the "all industries" line.<sup>2</sup>The total value of shipments figures for industry groups and a few individual industries have not been published due to the extensive and unmeasurable duplication arising from shipments from one establishment to another in the same industry classification. (See Introduction.)<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)<sup>2</sup>The employment and payroll figures for operating manufacturing establishments for 1949-1953 are estimates derived from a representative sample of manufacturing establishments canvassed in the Annual Survey of Manufactures. These estimates, consequently, may differ from the results that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The standard errors associated with these estimates are published in the Annual Survey of Manufactures volume for this period.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "all industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in major groups 20 and 24 (see footnote 4).

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major Groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>In order to avoid disclosing data for individual companies, the statistics for some industry groups are not shown. Industry groups reporting less than 100 employees are also omitted. They are included, however, in the "All industries" line.<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors. See discussion in Introduction and footnote to Table 4 for comparable figures at the State level.<sup>3</sup>Includes privately owned and/or operated establishments classified in Major Industry Group 19, "Ordnance and Accessories." (Establishments which are Government-owned and operated are not included.)<sup>4</sup>Independent city.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except sub-group 202, Dairy products.....	38,500	242,000	42,504	214,196
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	5,951	28,514	7,460	28,475

<sup>1</sup>The Boston Standard Metropolitan Area consists of all of Suffolk County, Mass.; Cambridge, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Newton, Somerville, Waltham, and Woburn cities; Arlington, Ashland, Bedford, Belmont, Burlington, Concord, Framingham, Lexington, Lincoln, Natick, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Watertown, Wayland, Weston, Wilmington, and Winchester towns in Middlesex County, Mass.; Beverly, Lynn, Peabody, and Salem cities; Danvers, Hamilton, Lynnfield, Manchester, Marblehead, Middleton, Nahant, Saugus, Swampscott, and Wenham towns in Essex County, Mass.; Quincy city, Braintree, Brookline, Canton, Cohasset, Dedham, Dover, Medfield, Milton, Needham, Norwood, Randolph, Sharon, Walpole, Wellesley, Westwood, and Weymouth towns in Norfolk County, Mass.; Hingham and Hull towns in Plymouth County, Mass.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major Group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

NA Separate figures are not available, but are included in totals for the area.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 are classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except sub-group 202, Dairy products.....	45,006	397,481	43,560	257,077
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	12,377	64,770	16,817	72,254

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 are classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major Group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major Group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging Camps and Contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

(D) Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	43,923	386,768	47,358	312,926
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	6,423	28,906	7,180	24,087

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

NA Not available.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging Camps and Contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

NOTE: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

NOTE: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years included data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on numbers of establishments.)

NOTE: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging Camps and Contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	52,742	588,711	46,000	347,000
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	5,229	28,322	4,748	23,267

"All manufacturing" totals for the Wilmington Standard Metropolitan Area (which includes Salem County in New Jersey) appear in Table 3. Industry group statistics for this area are shown in the 1954 Census of Manufactures report for the State of Delaware.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

MANUFACTURES—AREA STATISTICS

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major Group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREA (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging Camps and Contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging Camps and Contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>3</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "all industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in major groups 20 and 24 (see footnote 4).

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major Groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	128,168	1,152,445	128,624	920,179
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	16,971	87,343	16,957	69,421

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup> D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.<sup>2</sup> In order to avoid disclosing data for individual companies, the statistics for some industry groups are not shown. Industry groups reporting less than 100 employees are also omitted. They are included, however, in the "All industries" line.<sup>3</sup> The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors. See discussion in Introduction and footnote to Table 4 for comparable figures at the State level.<sup>4</sup> Includes privately owned and/or operated establishments classified in Major Industry Group 19, "Ordnance and Accessories." (Establishments which are Government-owned and operated are not included.)<sup>5</sup> See end of table for summary data for New York City which consists of Bronx, Kings, New York, Queens, and Richmond Counties.

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Separate figures are not available, but are included in totals for the area.

The 1947 data are not strictly comparable with the figures shown for 1954 due to differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors.
See discussion in Introduction and footnotes to Table 4.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947

<sup>2</sup>The employment figures for operating manufacturing establishments for 1952-1953 are estimates derived from a representative sample of manufacturing establishments canvassed in the Annual Survey of Manufactures. These estimates, consequently, may differ from the results that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The standard errors associated with these estimates are published in the Annual Survey of Manufactures volume for this period. The employment figures for administrative and auxiliary units were compiled chiefly from Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance records and are not strictly comparable with the figures for these units that were collected by the Bureau of the Census for the year 1954.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS
(None in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1951-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 are classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	63,000	535,000	61,323	376,068
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	9,885	53,692	10,565	43,728

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953, or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>2</sup>The total value of shipments figures for industry groups and a few individual industries have not been published due to the extensive and unmeasurable duplication arising from shipments from one establishment to another in the same industry classification. (See Introduction)

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

<sup>1</sup>In order to avoid disclosing data for individual companies, the statistics for some industry groups are not shown. Industry groups reporting less than 100 employees are also omitted. They are included, however, in the "All industries" line.<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors. See discussion in Introduction and footnote to Table 4 for comparable figures at the State level.<sup>3</sup>Includes privately owned and/or operated establishments classified in Major Industry Group 19, "Ordnance and Accessories." <sup>1</sup>Employment data for administrative offices and auxiliaries on a State basis are not available for the years prior to 1949. Similar data for standard metropolitan areas are available only for 1954.<sup>2</sup>The employment figures for operating manufacturing establishments for 1949-1953 are estimates derived from a representative sample of manufacturing establishments canvassed in the Annual Survey of Manufactures. These estimates, consequently, may differ from the results that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The standard errors associated with these estimates are published in the Annual Survey of Manufactures volume for this period. The employment figures for administrative and auxiliary units were compiled chiefly from Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance records and are not strictly comparable with the figures for these units that were collected by the Bureau of the Census for the year 1954.<sup>3</sup>The 1951 data are shown for 1952 since auxiliary and administrative unit data were not collected in 1952.<sup>4</sup>The Portland Standard Metropolitan Area consists of Clackamas, Multnomah, and Washington Counties, Oregon; and Clark County, Washington.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1953 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "all industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in major groups 20 and 24 (see footnote 4).

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 are classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	90,000	653,000	98,000	555,000
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	13,668	58,021	15,630	50,200

"All manufacturing" totals for the Youngstown Standard Metropolitan Area (which includes Mercer County in Pennsylvania) appear in Table 3. Industry group statistics for this area are shown in the 1954 Census of Manufactures report for the State of Ohio

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major Group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major Group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947

York County is coextensive with the York Standard Metropolitan Area. Data for this area are shown in Table 5.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

Footnotes for Table 4—Rhode Island—Continued

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data in major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	4,606	29,720	4,247	20,272
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	460	2,380	495	2,202

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>The Providence Standard Metropolitan Area consists of Central Falls, Cranston, Pawtucket, Providence, and Woonsocket cities; Cumberland, East Providence, Johnston, Lincoln, North Providence, North Smithfield, and Smithfield towns in Providence County, Rhode Island; North Kingstown town in Washington County, Rhode Island; Warwick City; East Greenwich and West Warwick towns in Kent County, Rhode Island; Bristol County, Rhode Island; Attleboro city, North Attleborough and Seekonk towns in Bristol County, Massachusetts; Bellingham, Franklin, Plainville, and Wrentham towns in Norfolk County, Massachusetts; Blackstone and Millville towns in Worcester County, Massachusetts.

<sup>3</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major Group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major Group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except Subgroup 202, Dairy Products.....	4,520	29,098	4,450	22,650

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>In order to avoid disclosing data for individual companies, the statistics for some industry groups are not shown. Industry groups reporting less than 100 employees are also omitted. They are included, however, in the "All industries" line.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors. See discussion in Introduction and footnote to Table 4 for comparable figures at the State level.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1952-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

The standard errors associated with these estimates are published in the Annual Survey of Manufactures volume for this period.

NOTE: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

Code	Industry	1954		1947

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cut-off was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding. D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies. NA Not available. <sup>1</sup>In order to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies, the statistics for some industries (4-digit) and industry groups (3-digit) are not shown. Industries and industry groups reporting less than 100 employees are also omitted. They are included, however, in the appropriate major industry group (2-digit) lines and the "all industries" line. <sup>2</sup>The total value of shipments figures for industry groups and a few individual industries have not been published due to the extensive and unmeasurable duplication arising from shipments from one establishment to another in the same industry classification. (See Introduction.) <sup>3</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "all industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in major groups 20 and 24 (see footnote 4). <sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major Groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 are classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	21,902	148,786	20,955	119,209
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	17,624	70,045	20,181	56,543

NA Not available

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors. See discussion in Introduction and footnote to Table 4 for comparable figures at the State level.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cut-off was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Detail figures are not available, but are included in totals for the area.

<sup>1</sup>The 1947 data are not strictly comparable with the figures shown for 1954 due to differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors.

See discussion in Introduction and footnotes to Table 4.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
	All industries except subgroups 202 and 2411, total.....	397,884	3,401,909	294,865	1,716,494

24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	19,121	70,631	30,694	95,988

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947

		Tarrant County is coextensive with the Fort Worth Standard Metropolitan Area. Data for this area are shown in Table 5.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging Camps and Contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

NOTE: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>Employment data for administrative offices and auxiliaries on a State basis are not available for the years prior to 1949.

<sup>3</sup>The employment figures for administrative and auxiliary units are included with those for operating manufacturing establishments.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

NOTE: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

		STANDARD METROPOLITAN AREAS (None with 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in this State)

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major Groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	24,767	141,200	20,418	81,187
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	21,395	68,808	23,268	63,399

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Detail figures are not available, but are included in totals for the area.

<sup>1</sup>The 1947 data are not strictly comparable with the figures shown for 1954 due to differences in coverage of loggers and fluid milk distributors.
See discussion in Introduction and footnotes to Table 4.

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

Code	Industry	1954		1947

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

NA Not available.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy Products.....	7,507	54,962	7,980	44,838

<sup>3</sup>The 1951 data are shown for 1952 since auxiliary and administrative unit data were not collected in 1952.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>4</sup>Comparable data for Major groups 20 and 24 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

<sup>3</sup>The 1951 data are shown for 1952 since auxiliary and administrative unit data were not collected in 1952.

<sup>1</sup>The 1954 figures include data for establishments engaged in the processing and distribution of fluid milk, Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. These establishments were not included in the figures for the Annual Survey years 1949-1953 or earlier Census years. In addition, the 1954 Census and Annual Survey years include data for Logging camps and contractors, Industry 2411, which were not included within the scope of the 1947 Census. See footnotes to Table 4 for comparable 1954 and 1947 totals. There were also a number of changes in the definition of manufacturing industries during earlier Census years that affect the comparability of the historical series. Among the more important of these were: figures for 1935 and later years exclude data for "Railroad repair shops" and "Manufactured gas" which were included in 1899-1933 figures; the minimum size of establishment included for 1954 and 1947 was one employee, for 1939-1921 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $5,000 or more were within scope whereas for 1919 and earlier years the cut-off was $500. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 are classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
	All industries except subgroups 202 and 2411, total.....	410,461	3,198,173	405,940	2,171,810
20	Food and kindred products except subgroup 202, Dairy products.....	44,987	382,969	42,554	291,851
24	Lumber and wood products except Industry 2411, Logging camps and contractors.....	16,742	81,439	16,917	64,114

Note: Detailed figures may not add to the totals because of independent rounding.

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>2</sup>The 1954 and 1947 "All industries" totals are not strictly comparable because of differences in scope between the two years in Major Group 20 (see footnote 3).

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data for Major Group 20 are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

Code	Industry	1954		1947
		All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)	All employees, number	Value added by manufacture ($1,000)
20	Food and kindred products except Subgroup 202, Dairy Products...	20,563	228,710	19,000	172,000

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>3</sup>Comparable data are not available due to differences in the coverage between 1947 and 1954. The 1947 Census figures exclude establishments in S.I.C. Industry 2411, Logging Camps and Contractors, which are included in the scope of the 1954 Census; the 1947 Census also excludes plants processing and distributing fluid milk which in 1954 were classified in Industry Group 202, Dairy Products. In the special comparative table below, data for these industries have been subtracted from the appropriate totals:

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The minimum size of establishments included for 1954 was one employee; for 1939, manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $2,000 or more were within scope; for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500 or more value of shipments. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

<sup>3</sup>For 1954, employment figures are based on employment for the payroll periods ended nearest the 15th of March, May, August and November. However, for seasonal industries such as canned seafood a different method was used for 1954: All employees represent the average of 12 monthly figures, and production workers were calculated by subtracting from the all employees total the average number of nonproduction employees for March, May, August and November. For earlier years, the production worker average was an average of 12 monthly figures, but the figure for all employees represents the sum of the annual average number of production workers and the number of nonproduction workers reported for one payroll period (usually in October).

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>All data are based on reports for individual manufacturing establishments, and not on a company basis. Each establishment of multiestablishment companies is classified by its primary industrial activity. For this reason the statistics presented in the table cannot be compared directly with tabulations in which the whole corporation or company is the reporting unit and the entire company is classified in one industry. Establishments were classified either as units in organizations comprising two or more establishments (multiunit) or as independent plants (single unit).

NA Not available.

<sup>1</sup>The minimum size of establishment included for 1954 was one employee; for 1939 manufacturing establishments reporting value of shipments of $2,000 or more were within scope; for 1919 and earlier years the cutoff was $500 or more value of shipments. (This change in procedure has not appreciably affected the comparability of the historical data except for the figures on number of establishments.)

<sup>3</sup>For 1954, employment figures are based on employment for the payroll periods ended nearest the 15th of March, May, August and November. However, for seasonal industries such as "Raw cane sugar" a different method was used for 1954: All employees represent the average of 12 monthly figures, and production workers were calculated by subtracting from the all employees total the average number of nonproduction employees for March, May, August and November. For earlier years, the production worker average was an average of 12 monthly figures, but the figure for all employees represents the sum of the annual average number of production workers and the number of nonproduction workers reported for one payroll period (usually in October).

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

<sup>1</sup>All data are based on reports for individual manufacturing establishments, and not on a company basis. Each establishment of multiestablishment companies is classified by its primary industrial activity. For this reason the statistics presented in this table cannot be compared directly with tabulations in which the whole corporation or company is the reporting unit and the entire company is classified in one industry. Establishments were classified either as units in organizations comprising two or more establishments (multiunit) or as independent plants (single unit).

SPECIAL REPORT

GOVERNMENT ESTABLISHMENTS

Manufacturing Activity in Government Establishments

This special report presents data for manufacturing activities of selected government establishments in continental United States. These data are not included in other 1954 Census of Manufactures reports, which cover privately operated establishments only. Manufacturing establishments owned by the Federal government and operated by private companies either for the government or for their own account are included with privately operated establishments. Three types of establishments are covered in this report: (1) manufacturing facilities owned and operated by the Department of Defense; (2) manufacturing facilities owned and operated by other United States Government agencies, and (3) prison industries (Federal, District of Columbia and State). The data were prepared with the cooperation of the Department of Defense, the Department of Justice, the Department of Interior and the District of Columbia and State prison systems.

Manufacturing Facilities Owned by the United States Government and Operated by the Department of Defense

Data are shown in Tables 1 to 3 for manufacturing facilities owned by the United States Government and operated by the Department of Defense. Although these establishments may also be engaged in nonmanufacturing activities at the same location, the statistics represent only their activities relating to manufacturing.

This report covers all manufacturing installations operated by the Department of Defense which produce goods or perform manufacturing services for the general supply system of the Department of Defense. It does not include activities of Defense Department installations which serve primarily or exclusively their own installations (e.g., bakeries, some machine shops and box plants).

Statistics are shown in these tables for employment, man-hours, payrolls, value added by manufacture, and value of shipments. Value of shipments reflects all of the direct costs incurred by the establishments in manufacturing operations such as labor, raw materials, components, parts, supplies, overhead, etc. For shipyards, value of shipments represents the value of new construction and repair work performed during the year whether or not the vessels were completed by the end of 1954. Generally, individual product statistics are shown only for those items with a civilian counterpart. Furthermore, product detail on ordnance and related items is withheld for security reasons on advice of the Bureau of the Budget.

Value added by manufacture represents the total value of shipments (including the value of manufacturing services) less the cost of materials, parts, supplies, etc., actually consumed or put into production during the year, whether purchased during 1954, withdrawn from inventories, or received from other Government agencies. For a few establishments, value added by manufacture was partly estimated by the Bureau of the Census after consultation with the Department of Defense, on the basis of related data reported by the establishment.

Military personnel are not included in any of the employment, payroll or man-hours data. These data represent only nonmilitary (wage board and graded) employees engaged in the manufacturing activities at the plant.

Manufacturing Facilities Owned and Operated by Other United States Government Agencies

Manufacturing operations of the Bureau of Mines, U. S. Department of Interior, are not included in Tables 1 to 3. That Agency is the sole producer of helium in the United States. During 1954, it operated 4 plants from which 190 million cubic feet of helium valued at $3,202 thousand were shipped. The value added by manufacture for these plants was $2,838 thousand. The average number of employees totaled 358, of which 275 were production and related workers, and the total wages and salaries paid amounted to $1,583 thousand. The Bureau of Mines also operated a titanium pilot plant during part of 1954 which produced 290 thousand pounds of titanium sponge and employed 64 persons. Additional detail for production, shipments, consumption, prices, reserves and activities relating to conservation and technology appear in the Minerals Yearbook, a publication of the Bureau of Mines.

Excluded from this report are the manufacturing activities of the Government Printing Office and the Tennessee Valley Authority. The operations of these agencies are covered in their Annual Reports. Also excluded are the minor manufacturing activities of such other Government agencies as the Post Office Department and the General Services Administration. The manufacturing activities of these latter agencies have no counterparts in private industry.

Prison Industries (Federal, District of Columbia, and State)

During 1954 manufactured products valued at $69,184 thousand were produced in Federal, District of Columbia, and State prisons in the United States. It is estimated that about 10 percent of this total was sold on the open market, the remainder representing products used by Federal or local government agencies, including the prison systems. These data, shown in detail in Table 4, cover the activities of the Federal Prison Industries, Inc., as well as those of the prison industries of each State and the District of Columbia.

Appendix A

Industry Descriptions

This appendix presents, in tabular form, descriptions of industries for which data are published in the 1954 Census of Manufactures reports and a comparison of their 1954 and 1947 specialization and coverage ratios. These ratios are computed from data shown in Tables 5A and 5B of Volume II, Industry Statistics.

The scope and content of the 1954 Census conform to the Standard Industrial Classification (S.I.C.) Manual, 1945 edition, as amended by the Bureau of the Budget prior to the 1954 Census. The industry descriptions shown in this appendix follow the S.I.C. manual, as amended, but contain more extensive references to products classified in the industry and additional cross references to similar or related products classified in other industries. Industry titles used are Census "short" titles; if different from the S.I.C., the full S.I.C. title is shown in a parenthesis following the Census short title. S.I.C. industries which have been rearranged or combined in the 1954 Census are listed by the Census code classification; the equivalent S.I.C. industry is also included as part of the full industry title. Changes in scope and content of manufacturing industries from 1947 are described in Appendix B, "Comparisons of 1954 and 1947 Census Industry Classifications," as well as in the text preceding each of the industry reports of Volume II, Industry Statistics.

Establishments are classified in industries on the basis of their principal activity, usually measured in terms of dollar value of products shipped (see Introduction, Industry Classification of Establishments). While many establishments produce only products primary to the industry, most industries include some establishments which also produce secondary products (products classified as primary to other industries). The primary product specialization ratio describes the proportion of primary products shipped by the industry to total product shipments (both primary and secondary) by the industry. Miscellaneous receipts (receipts for contract work, sale of scrap, etc.) are excluded from this computation.

The coverage ratio is the proportion of primary products shipped by the industry to total shipments of these products by all manufacturing industries. Because of the diversity of manufactures, relatively few industries account for 100 percent of the manufacture of their primary products. Furthermore, an industry's coverage ratio may be reduced by the system of industry classification which distinguishes, for some industries, between different processes in the manufacture of the same product. For such industries, the coverage ratio would be significantly different if the computations were confined to shipments of the products made by similar production processes rather than by all processes. For example, although Industry 2931, Beehive Coke Ovens, accounted for only 1 percent of the coke shipped by all manufacturing plants, this output represented 100 percent of the coke made in beehive ovens.

Ratios are not computed for 4-digit industries in which receipts are predominantly from services rendered rather than for products shipped, since the value of such services performed for others on either a contract or commission basis was not reported separately by type of service. Nor are ratios computed for industries having significant duplication between establishments in the industry due to the consumption of certain products of the industry as materials by other establishments in the same industry. Ratios are shown, however, wherever such duplication could be approximated and eliminated from the computations.

Industries are grouped by specialization and coverage ratio in the following two summary tables. A distribution of industries by 1954 ratio group is shown in table 1; and in table 2, identical industries are grouped by 1954 ratio group and by 1947 ratio group and 1954 employment is shown for both the 1947 and 1954 ratio group. With relatively few exceptions, changes in ratio for individual industries between the two years have been relatively minor. In 1954, as in 1947, approximately 95 percent of manufacturing employment is included in industries with specialization of 80 percent or higher.

Industry group (3-digit) specialization and coverage ratios are shown for the first time in reports of the 1954 Census of Manufactures. Comparable ratios are shown for 1947 only where the 4-digit industry and the 3-digit industry group are substantially identical. Industry group ratios are based on shipments of all products which are primary to any of the 4-digit industries included in the industry group. These ratios provide a measure of overlapping production with industries in other 3-digit groups. However, it should be noted that industry group ratios are derived from figures which may include duplication arising from the transfer of products between 4-digit industries in the group as well as within certain 4-digit industries.

23	APPAREL AND RELATED PRODUCTS This major group of industries are generally known as the cutting up and needle trades industries, and include establishments producing clothing and fabricated textile products by cutting and sewing purchased woven or knit textile fabrics and related materials such as leather, rubberized fabrics, plastics and furs. There are three types of establishments which operate in the apparel industries included in Major Group 23: (1) the regular factories or "manufacturers"; (2) the apparel "jobbers"; and (3) the contract factories or "contractors". The "manufacturers" purchase fabric, employ production workers in their own plants to cut and sew the materials into apparel, and sell the final product; in effect, such establishments perform all of the usual manufacturing functions within their own establishments. The "jobbers", on the other hand, primarily perform the entrepreneurial functions of a manufacturing company such as buying raw materials, designing and preparing samples, arranging for the manufacture of the garments from their materials, and selling of the finished apparel. The actual processing (cutting, sewing, etc.) is performed on contract by the apparel contractors, although many jobbers perform the cutting operation in their own establishments. Excluded from Major Group 23 are knitting mills primarily engaged in manufacturing apparel from yarns knitted in the same establishment; such plants are included in Group 225, Knitting Mills. Furthermore, establishments primarily engaged in manufacturing felt and straw hats, except millinery, are included in Group 228, Hats, Except Cloth and Millinery; those producing leather shoes and gloves in Major Group 31, Leather and Leather Products; and rubber footwear in Industry 3021, Rubber Footwear. Custom tailors and dressmakers, who manufacture and sell apparel in the same retail establishment, are classified as nonmanufacturing. Similarly, establishments which are primarily wholesalers or dealers in that they purchase and resell finished garments but do not perform the functions of the apparel jobbers described below are classified in Wholesale Trade.

For such industries (indicated by footnote 1), the employment figure is based on the average of the mid-month total for each of the 12 months of the year. For 1947, the employment figure for all industries represents averages of reported employment for the 12 months of the year.

<sup>3</sup>Ratio of value of primary products shipped by the industry to total shipments of these products by all manufacturing industries.

<sup>4</sup>1947 ratios for Industries 2011 and 2013 cannot be computed separately owing to the lack of necessary data. On a combined basis (Industries 2011 and 2013 taken together) the 1947 specialization and coverage ratios are 96 and 99 percent respectively. The comparable ratios for 1954 are 98 and 99 percent respectively.

<sup>5</sup>The low coverage ratio reflects industry classifications which are based on manufacturing process rather than products. The coverage ratio would be much higher if compared to shipments by process defining the industry rather than to shipments by all manufacturing industries.

<sup>6</sup>1954 Census industry was combined in 1947 Census publications; comparable ratios on a combined basis are as follows:

Industry	1954 ratio		1947 ratio
	Special-ization	Coverage	Special-ization	Coverage
2612 and 2613.....	100	100	100	100
2811 and 2819.....	89	80	87	80
2822 and 2829.....	82	86	81	86
3544 and 3545.....	89	73	90	80

<sup>7</sup>1947 Industry 2037 includes Industries 2036 and 2037. Although 1947 data for Industry 2037 have not been retabulated, the ratios shown are believed to be approximately correct. 1947 employment and ratios for Industry 2036, however, are not available.

<sup>8</sup>Specialization ratio is based on percentage of value of primary products to total shipments, including primary and secondary products and miscellaneous receipts (contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc.)

<sup>9</sup>The value of shipments of the industry contains significant duplication of such shipments within the industry (see Introduction). The ratios shown are based on estimates of unduplicated totals and are generally minimum percentages.

<sup>10</sup>Relationships not computed because of significant duplication in shipments within the industry for which estimates are not available.

<sup>11</sup>Relationships not meaningful because of the predominance of miscellaneous receipts, particularly receipts for contract and commission work on materials owned by others.

<sup>12</sup>In 1947 a number of textile mills (Major Group 22) producing sheets and pillowcases reported such shipments as gray broad woven fabrics. This resulted in an understatement of the 1947 total value of housefurnishings and an overstatement of the coverage ratio for Industry 2392. In addition the change in reporting of fabricating departments of textile mills results in some noncomparability of the coverage ratios for 1954 and 1947.

<sup>13</sup>In 1954 data for edible and inedible stearin were reported separately and classified as primary, respectively, to Industry 2011 and Industry 2889. Since such distributions could not be made from the 1947 data, the 1947 coverage ratio, computed as 39 percent, is not directly comparable with 1954.

<sup>14</sup>These are minimum percentages. The exact percentage cannot be shown without disclosing figures for individual companies.

Appendix B

COMPARISON OF 1954 AND 1947 CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATIONS

This appendix describes the principal changes in scope and content of 1947 and 1954 manufacturing industries as well as revisions of the 1945 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification approved by Bureau of the Budget prior to the 1954 Census. The 1954 Census is based on the November 1945 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification as amended by the Bureau of the Budget prior to that Census. For the 1954 Census, the manufacturing division comprises 20 major industry groups (two-digit groups ranging from codes 20 to 39 inclusive; group 19 is combined with group 39); 142 industry groups (three-digit codes); and 446 individual industries (four-digit codes). This represents an increase from the 1947 Census of one 3-digit group (Group 241, Logging Camps and Logging Contractors) and a decrease of seven 4-digit industries. The decrease in the number of industries reflects primarily consolidations of smaller and less significant industries.

As a whole the scope and content of 1954 and 1947 Census industries are in substantial agreement. It should be noted that both in 1954 and 1947 separate central administrative or auxiliary units of multi-establishment companies are not included in the operating manufacturing establishment totals. However, in 1954 unlike 1947, they are included in the "all manufacturing" totals shown in the Summary and State volumes. The principal changes between the industry classifications followed in the 1954 Census and those in the 1947 Census publication or the 1945 edition of the SIC Manual are discussed below:

A. The amended Standard Industrial Classification added the following establishments to the scope of manufacturing:

1. Establishments processing milk (pasteurizing, homogenizing, vitaminizing and bottling) as well as producing other dairy products are included in Group 202, Dairy Products, whether or not the processing establishments are also engaged in the route distribution of milk. In 1947 such plants were included in Trade Industries; however, supplemental data were collected from plants processing milk provided they were also engaged in producing other dairy products. These data were tabulated separately on the basis of the plant's principal manufacturing activity, except for fluid milk and cream, and excluded from manufacturing totals.

2. Establishments primarily engaged in the production of fresh (not frozen) packaged oysters and other seafood, formerly classified in Wholesale Trade, are now included in Industry 2036, Packaged Seafood.

3. Apparel and knitting jobbers and leather converters who assign materials to contract factories for fabrication for their account are included in manufacturing industries. Jobbers assigning materials fabricated on a cut-make-trim basis are classified in Major Group 23, Apparel and Related Products; jobbers supplying yarns to commission knitters in Group 225, Knitting Mills; converters assigning hides and skins for tanning and finishing in Industry 3111, Leather Tanning and Finishing. Since these apparel jobbers and leather converters were included in the scope of the 1947 Census, the revision in the Standard Industrial Classification does not affect the comparability of 1954-1947 Census data.

B. In addition to the expanded scope of manufactures arising from the amendments to the Standard Industrial Classification, the 1954 Census included the following types of establishments which had been excluded from the 1947 Census due primarily to the difficulties involved in obtaining adequate mailing lists:

1. Logging camps and contractors (in 1954 classified in Industry 2411).

2. Sawmills producing less than 200,000 board feet of lumber (in 1954 classified in Industry 2421).

3. Gum naval stores produced in fire stills, output of which in 1947 was estimated at fifteen percent and by 1954 had declined to less than two percent of the total output of Industry 2863.

C. As a result of clarifications of the scope of manufactures in the 1945 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification, the following activities included in the 1947 Census have been excluded from the 1954 Census. The exclusion of these activities has had little effect on the overall comparability of data.

1. Retail multi-outlet bakeries producing bakery products at each location for direct sale to consumers on the premises were included in 1947 Census Industry 2051 and in Retail Trade in 1954.

2. Wool combing jobbers (establishments having wool combed for them on contract) were included in 1947 Industry 2211 and classified in Trade Industries in 1954.

3. Coke ovens owned and operated by Public Utilities were included in 1947 Industry 2932 and excluded from the scope of the 1954 Census of Manufactures, Business, and Mineral Industries.

D. The amended Standard Industrial Classification established a number of separate industries by dividing existing industries; conversely, it eliminated a number of four-digit industries by combination. Other amendments include the transfer of products from one industry to another. Since many of these amendments were consistent with Census procedures followed in 1947, the 1954-1947 data are generally comparable. Shifts of product classification are described in the text material preceding the applicable industry in the Industry Volume.

Table A below shows industries which have been significantly amended from the 1945 edition of the Industrial Classification and their 1954 Census of Manufactures equivalents—including approved Census rearrangements of the amended Standard Industrial Classification.

Table B below compares industry classifications used in the publication of the 1954 Census of Manufactures with those followed in the 1947 Census. It includes all industries which have been changed significantly in content from 1947; other industry codes and content remain substantially unchanged from 1947. The first column lists the 1954 Census industry code; the second column the equivalent 1947 industry code (an asterisked code means that only part of the 1947 industry is included). The industry titles shown are the 1954 and 1947 Census short industry titles. 1947 Census equivalent whole or parts of 1954 industries are indented below the corresponding 1954 Census titles and the following details are shown where applicable: (1) reference to the specific part of the 1947 Census industry covered and (2) reference to other 1954 industries into which the 1947 industry was distributed. The last four columns contain the 1954 and 1947 Census totals which comprise the retabulated industry data consisting of number of employees and value added by manufacture. Since the 1947 retabulated data includes adjustments to previously published data they may differ from figures shown in the 1947 Census of Manufactures.

<sup>1</sup>The number of employees for 1954 for industries other than 2036, 2037, 2099, 2295, and 2889 of this table are based on employment averages for payroll periods ending nearest the 15th of March, May, August, and November. For industries 2036, 2037, 2099, 2295, and 2889 the number of employees are based on the average on the payroll during pay periods ended nearest the 15th of each of the 12 months. For 1947, the employment figure for all industries represents the average on the payroll during pay periods ended nearest the 15th of each of the 12 months.

<sup>2</sup>Packaged seafood and frozen fruits and vegetables formerly constituted one industry; however, fresh packaged seafood was not included in manufacturing in 1947. 1947 employment and value added for 1954 industries 2036 and 2037 combined (excluding fresh packaged seafood) are 17.4 thousand and $59,377 thousand, respectively. Total fresh packaged seafood shipped in 1954 amounted to $53,552 thousand.

<sup>4</sup>Fire stills were excluded from the scope of the 1947 Census. In 1947 fire stills accounted for 15 percent of the total value of products; by 1954 practically all of the production was accounted for by steam (central) stills.

<sup>5</sup>Special dies and tools (industry 3544) and metalworking machinery attachments (industry 3545) constituted industry 3543 in 1947. Comparable 1947 employment and value added for industries 3544 and 3545 combined are 95.9 thousand and $501,995 thousand, respectively.

CENSUS REPORT FORMS AND PUNCH CARDS

Approximately 200 different report forms ("standard" forms) were used in collecting information in the 1954 Census of Manufactures. Nearly all of these were variations of Form MC-35U shown on pages App. C-2 thru 10 of this appendix. Such forms were sent to larger manufacturing plants (generally those with six or more employees). Items 1 through 16 are the same on nearly all such forms except for item 9, "Number of Employees by Months," which appears on report forms for a few industries characterized by marked seasonal variations in employment. Items 17 and 18, while similar in general purpose, are different for each industry or group of related industries depending upon the materials used or the products manufactured. Items 19 and 20 are similarly adapted to the special characteristics of individual industries.

Five simplified report forms ("short" forms) were used for smaller establishments, i.e., those with less than six employees. The General Manufactures Form MC-D2, shown on pages App. C-16 thru 19, was sent to small establishments in all but four industry areas: (a) Dairy Products, (b) Logs, Lumber and Other Wood Basic Materials, (c) Printing and Publishing, and (d) Concrete Products; for these groups special short forms were prepared. The general inquiries (items 1-10) included for forms used for the smaller establishments are the same and are considerably abridged in comparison with these items included in the standard forms sent to larger establishments. The product inquiry on Form MC-D2 requested the manufacturer to report value of shipments for classes of products as described in a Product Class Reference List which was enclosed with the form. Plants in the four selected industry areas, however, received forms with a preprinted list of individual products suitable to the industry. The need for such special forms arose after it was determined that product data for these areas were significantly affected by the output of smaller plants. A preprinted list of materials consumed was also included on the forms for certain of these special industries.

Instructions for preparing the 1954 Census report forms are also shown below except for Form MC-D2 and its four variations. Short form respondents were sent the Product Class Reference List described above with the other instructions appearing on the form itself.

Additional forms used to cover separate central administrative offices and auxiliary units, plants under construction but not in operation during 1954, plants using 20 million or more gallons of water during 1954, etc., are described in Section 9 of the introductory text which appears at the beginning of this Volume.

The basic punch cards used in tabulating the 1954 Census data are shown on pages App. C-20 and 21.

ITEM 17

SELECTED

General.—This inquiry calls for a breakdown of the cost of all materials and components, parts, containers, and supplies consumed during 1954, as reported in Item 11a on reverse. Separate figures are required for each material listed below if your consumption of the material during 1954 amounted to $5,000 or more. The cost of materials, supplies, etc., which are not listed or, if listed, are not reported separately because their value is estimated at less than $5,000, should be reported on the line for "All other materials and components, parts, containers, and supplies consumed." The total cost in Item 17 should, therefore, agree with Item 11a.

Consumption of Materials Received From Other Establishments (Col. (D) and Col. (E)).—Report in these columns the quantities and delivered cost of each of the listed materials actually consumed or put into production during the year, whether purchased, withdrawn from inventories, or received from other establishments of this company.

Quantity (Col. (D)).—Report the quantities actually consumed in the unit of measure specified. If you do not maintain actual consumption records, but if purchases closely approximate consumption, your purchase figures may be used in completing the item. However, if for one of the items specifically listed, consumption differs significantly from purchases, please derive consumption figures by adding beginning inventory to purchases during the year and then subtracting closing inventory. Purchase data may be reported for minor materials and supply items.

Delivered Cost (Col. (E)).—Report amounts actually paid or payable after discounts, and include freight and direct charges incurred in acquiring the quantities of the listed materials consumed during 1954. For materials transferred from other establishments of this company, report the nearest approximation to the commercial value of the material.

Consumption of Materials Produced in This Establishment (Quantity) (Col. (F)).—Report the quantities of each listed material which were made and consumed in further fabrication or assembly within the same establishment.

Derived Unit Cost (Col. (E) Divided by Col. (D)).—This computation is included as an aid to you and the Census Bureau in assuring that this part of your report has been filled out correctly. Please examine the derived unit costs to make sure that the correct unit of measure (Column (C)) has been used and that the quantities and costs entered are consistent.

All Other Materials and Components, Etc. (Line 10).—This figure may be derived by subtracting the sum of the material costs on lines 1-9 from the total cost of all materials, parts, containers, and supplies consumed during 1954, as reported in Item 11a.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

BUREAU OF THE CENSUS

1954 CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO MANUFACTURERS
FOR PREPARING REPORTS

INTRODUCTION

A. WHO SHOULD REPORT?

Every concern which receives a form is required to submit a separate census report for each of its manufacturing establishments in the Continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii. Concerns with more than one establishment must submit a separate report for each establishment operated during 1954. Your report should be returned to the Census Office shown on the enclosed envelope within 30 days of its receipt.

B. WHAT IS A MANUFACTURING ESTABLISHMENT?

A manufacturing establishment is generally defined as a single physical location where industrial operations are performed; for example, a factory, mill, or plant. Where a single physical location comprises two or more units which are engaged in distinct or separate manufacturing activities, and for which separate records are available or for which substantially accurate reports can be prepared, each such unit shall be treated as a separate establishment. In the preparation of such reports a limited amount of prorating or estimating may be necessary. An establishment is not necessarily identical with the business concern or firm which may consist of one or more establishments. It is also to be distinguished from organizational subunits, departments or divisions within an establishment. Units at different physical locations, even though engaged in the same line of manufacturing, processing, and assembly, should be reported as separate establishments.

Where agreements were reached by your company with the Bureau of the Census concerning the definition of your manufacturing plants for reporting in the 1947 Census of Manufactures or subsequent Annual Surveys of Manufactures, the same definitions should be used in this Census. (However, it is necessary to prepare a separate report for each enclosed manufactures form imprinted with a specific plant name and address.)

If additional report forms are required, please write the Bureau of the Census, indicating the type of activity which is not covered by the form(s) sent you. (NOTE.—If you received a copy of Form NC-X2, use it to request such additional forms.)

C. WHAT KIND OF ACTIVITIES SHOULD THE ESTABLISHMENT REPORTS COVER?

Each report should cover all the production activities (manufacturing, fabricating, processing, and assembling) conducted within the establishment. It should also include activities such as the generation of power for the plant, maintenance of plant and equipment, receiving, shipping, warehousing, storage, research, record keeping, health, safety, cafeteria, and other services, when carried on at the same physical location by the manufacturing establishment. Your report should exclude sales branches, sales offices, power plants, research laboratories, retail stores, and general administrative offices, if they are operated as separate establishments. Separate Census reports should be submitted for each of these establishments. Business concerns operating more than one establishment should refer to the instructions defining an establishment on the company summary form NC-X7.

D. WHAT PERIOD SHOULD EACH REPORT COVER?

Each report should cover the calendar year 1954. If your book records are not on a calendar year basis, carefully prepared estimates for this period will be accepted. If, however, this procedure will involve you in considerable additional costs, and agreements were reached by your company with the Census Bureau in regard to reporting on a fiscal year basis in the 1947 Census or subsequent Annual Surveys of Manufactures, you may report on a fiscal basis. As in the 1947 Census and in the Annual Surveys of Manufactures, however, all employment, payroll, and man-hour figures should relate to the calendar year rather than the fiscal year.

The dates given in the certification should show the exact period for which this report is made. Thus, if an establishment began to operate or ceased to operate within the year, the dates given will show that only part of a year is covered by the report. Where an establishment was operated during the early part of the year under other management, complete the report only for that part of the year 1954 in which you operated.

E. HOW SHOULD MULTIPLE ESTABLISHMENT COMPANIES DETERMINE TRANSFER VALUES FOR INDIVIDUAL PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS?

In order to provide accurate information for individual industries, States, and local areas, it is necessary for each establishment of a multiple plant organization to report as though it were operated as an independent manufacturing establishment. For example, where a single company operates a textile mill and also manufactures apparel, the transfer of fabrics from one establishment to the other should be reported at approximately commercial value and not at the cost of production. This requires that a company operating two or more plants assign to each plant and to the individual products a reasonable proportion of the profits and the overhead costs. The method found by each company to be most convenient will ordinarily be acceptable to the Census Bureau. It is recognized that estimates will often be involved.

If the product section of the form (item 18) calls for "interplant transfers" separately, it means transfers between manufacturing plants of your company. Interplant transfers should not include transfers to separate selling departments, sales branches, retail stores, export subsidiaries or other distribution channels owned by your company. The products reported at "transfer values" by the shipping plant should be reported by the receiving plant as materials consumed (or inventories of materials, etc.) at the same values, except for the addition of freight and other direct handling charges.

These instructions apply to all establishments for which separate reports are being submitted, including those at the same location as well as those at different locations.

ITEMS ON THE REPORT FORM

(NOTE.—An entry is required in each item on the form. If the answer is none, enter "none" or "0." If a particular question does not apply to your business, enter "not applicable" or explain briefly in the "Remarks" space.)

Item 1. Name of Establishment (Factory, Plant, or Mill).—Enter the name under which the establishment covered by this report does business. If it is one of several establishments doing business under the same name, also give the name or number by which it is distinguished from the other establishments of the same company. For example: "Atlas Steel Co., Centerville Plant." If it is one of several establishments at the same address, it is important that you indicate type of activity; for example, "Acme Textile Co., Third Street Mill Finishing Department."

Item 2. Location of Establishment.—Enter the actual physical location of your factory, plant, or mill (which may differ from the business address at which mail is received) in Items 2a through 2d. If the establishment is located within the actual legal boundaries of any city or town, check "YES" in item 2e and give the official name of the city or town in item 2f. (This name is not necessarily the same as the post office station name used for the mailing address of the establishment.)

If the establishment is not located within the actual legal boundaries of any city or town, check "NO" in item 2e and enter in item 2f the name of the township, borough, or similar civil subdivision of the county in which located. If the latter is not known, however, enter in item 2f the rural route or highway upon which the establishment is located and its distance and direction from the nearest city or town (for example, "State Highway No. 26, 10 miles northeast of York"). In the case of mobile operations such as logging or pulpwood operations, give the county in which the major activity was carried on.

Item 3. (See instructions on Form.)

Item 4. (See instructions on Form.)

Item 5. (See instructions on Form.)

Item 6. (See instructions on Form.)

Item 7. Change in Status or Ownership of This Establishment Since December 31, 1953.—If box "d" or box "e" is checked, the following additional information should be supplied in the "Remarks" section. If plant did not operate at any time in 1954 (box "d" has been checked), advise date operation is expected to resume. If "out of business" (box "e" has been checked), state the disposition of the plant, i. e., unoccupied, demolished, dismantled, etc.

Item 8. Employment and Pay Rolls in 1954. Number of Employees in 1954.

Columns (A) through (D).—Report employees at this establishment who worked or received pay for any part of the pay period (preferably 1 week) ended nearest the 15th of the months specified on the report form. Include all persons on paid sick leave, paid holidays, and paid vacation during these pay periods; exclude members of armed forces and pensioners carried on your active rolls. Include officers, if a corporation; exclude proprietor or partners, if an unincorporated concern. (You may follow the definition of employees specified by your State Employment Security Agency.) If employment in any one of these pay periods was abnormally low because of a strike or for some other reason, state the reason therefor and report employment for the nearest normal pay period in the "Remarks" section of the form.

Columns (E) and (F).—Add the four employment figures on each line and enter total in column (E); divide this total by FOUR and enter result in column (F), "Average Employment."

Classes of employees on lines 8a, 8b, and 8c are defined as follows:

a. Production and related workers.—Workers (up through the working foreman level) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping (but not delivering), maintenance, repair, janitorial, watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e. g., power plant), record keeping, and other services closely associated with these production operations. Exclude supervisory employees above working foreman level.

b. Force-account construction workers.—Employees on your payroll who are engaged in construction of major additions or alterations to the plant and are utilized as a separate work force. (Workers engaged in regular maintenance and repair operations should be reported in item 8a, not here.)

c. All other employees.—Nonproduction personnel of this establishment, including those engaged in the following activities: factory supervision above working foreman level, sales (including driver salesmen), sales delivery (highway truck drivers and their helpers), advertising, credit, collection, installation and servicing of own products, clerical and routine office functions, executive, purchasing, finance, legal, personnel (including cafeteria, medical, etc.), professional, and technical.

Column (G)—Total 1954 Payrolls—(Total Wages, Salaries, Bonuses, Commissions, and Other Remuneration Paid in Entire Year 1954, Before Deductions.)*—Report the gross earnings paid in the calendar year 1954 to employees on the payroll of this establishment during 1954, including commissions, dismissal pay, all bonuses, vacation and sick leave pay, and compensation in kind, and prior to such deductions as employees' Social Security contributions, withholding taxes, group insurance, union dues, and savings bonds. Include salaries of officers at this establishment, if a corporation; exclude payments to proprietor or partners, if an unincorporated concern. Exclude payments to members of armed forces and pensioners carried on your active payroll. (You may follow the definition of salaries and wages that is used for calculating the withholding tax.)

Item 9. Total Number of Employees, by Month.—This inquiry will appear on the report forms only for selected industries where there is a significant seasonal pattern, or where an accurate annual employment average cannot be obtained from figures for four specified pay periods (i. e., where a significant difference exists between an employment average based on 4 monthly figures and an average based on 12 monthly figures).

Item 10. Man-Hours of Production and Related Workers, by Quarter.—“Plant man-hours” of production and related workers (as defined in Item 8a) is designed to measure the over-all activity of the plant during each quarter. The requested figures consist of all man-hours worked or paid for, except hours paid for vacations, holidays or sick leave, when the employee was not at the plant. Include actual overtime hours, not straight-time equivalent hours. If employee elects to work during the vacation period, report only actual hours worked by such employee.

Each quarterly man-hours figure should be a total for the entire quarterly period (either calendar quarter or 13-week period). The “Total 1954” figure should account for all man-hours at the plant of production and related workers only for the entire year. Do not include man-hours for “force-account construction workers” or for “all other employees.” If a payroll period runs from one quarter into the next, distribute the man-hours between the two quarters.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR ITEMS 11, 12, AND 17

What To Include in These Items.—Report total amounts of materials, supplies, semi-finished goods, fuels, etc., actually consumed or put into production during 1954 by your establishment. This should include only physical goods and not services used or overhead. Therefore, exclude such services as advertising, telephone, telegram and cable, insurance, developmental and research services provided by other establishments, services of engineering, management, marketing and other professional consultants, etc. Exclude, in addition, such overhead items as depreciation charges against plant and equipment, rent and rental allowances, interest payments, and royalties and use of patents fees.

In addition to items purchased from other companies, you should be sure to include materials, supplies, fuels, etc., received from other establishments of your company. The figures reported in Items 11a, 11c, 11d, 12, and 17 should cover materials, fuels, etc., which were: (1) put into production, (2) used as operating supplies, (3) used in repair and maintenance, and (4) owned by you but consumed by other companies to make products for your establishment. Products purchased and resold without further manufacture or processing should be included in Item 11b only. Exclude materials, supplies, machinery, and equipment which were used in the construction of new structures or additions to your plant or new machinery and equipment, and which are chargeable to fixed assets accounts.

Definition of Consumption.—Include items received prior to 1954 if they were consumed during the year, but do not include items received in 1954 if they were not consumed. If your records do not show actual amounts consumed or put into production during the year, but purchases closely approximate consumption, purchase figures may be used in completing Items 11, 12, and 17. This applies especially to minor materials and supply items. If for any major item, however, consumption differs significantly from purchases, consumption should be computed from your records of purchases (receipts) and inventories of materials as follows: Add amounts received during the year to amounts on hand at the beginning of the year and from this total subtract amounts on hand at the end of the year. The resulting figure represents consumption during the year.

Definition of Cost.—“Cost” refers to direct charges actually paid or payable for items consumed or put into production during the year. For this reason, it should represent the cost after discounts, and should include freight charges and other direct charges incurred by the establishment in acquiring these materials.

The cost reported for materials, etc., received from other plants of your company or from a central materials depot (whether at the same or different physical locations) should approximate the commercial values of these materials plus freight and other direct handling charges. Wherever possible, these figures should be checked with the values reported by the plant producing and transferring the goods and should exceed the shipment values reported for the producing plant only by the addition of freight or other direct handling charges involved.

Item 11a. Materials, Parts, Containers, and Supplies Consumed During 1954.—Report the total delivered cost of all raw materials, semi-finished goods, parts, components, containers, scrap, and supplies consumed or put into production during 1954 by this establishment. For semi-finished goods, parts, or components produced and later incorporated into finished products at the same plant, include the cost of raw materials used in their manufacture rather than the value of the intermediate products made.

Be sure to include the cost of all materials listed in Item 17 (if applicable) or listed as examples in Item 11a. In addition, include the cost of all parts, containers, and supplies shown in the list of examples below. Be sure to include the cost of any such listed items and all other materials, parts, etc., actually consumed or put into production at this establishment in 1954. This list is shown only as an example rather than as a complete list of types of items which should be included.

Cost of Products Bought and Resold Without Further Manufacture, Processing or Assembly in This Establishment During 1954.—Give the cost of all products bought and resold in the same condition as when purchased and not made part of another product manufactured by this establishment. (Total invoice sales value of all products thus resold is to be reported in Item 18 on the line for "Resales.")

Item 11c. Fuels Consumed During 1954.—Report the total amount actually paid or payable during 1954 for all fuels consumed for heat, power, or the generation of electricity. Include anthracite and bituminous coal, coke, natural and manufactured gas, fuel oil, liquefied petroleum gas, purchased steam, and all other fuels.

Item 11d. Electric Energy Purchased During 1954.—Report the total amount actually paid or payable for electric energy purchased during 1954.

Item 11e. Cost of Work Done for You by Others on Your Own Materials During 1954. (Contract Work.)—If any work was done by others on materials furnished by your establishment, report the total 1954 payments made for such work, including freight out and in. Exclude the cost of materials worked on, which should be included in Item 11a (and in Item 17 if the latter appears on the report form).

Item 12a. Fuels Consumed During 1954.—(This item is omitted from the report forms for establishments in selected Apparel and Printing and Publishing industries.) Do not include fuels that were produced and used at this establishment for power or heat, for example, coke at coke ovens or fuel oil at petroleum refineries. Include in Item 17, fuel used as raw materials, for example, crude petroleum, coal used in making coke, and gas used in making carbon black.

Item 12a, 3. Fuel Oil.—Under "Distillate (light)" fuel oil include Grade Nos. 1 through 4 and P. S. 100 and 200. Under "Residual (heavy)" fuel oil include Grade Nos. 5 and 6 and P. S. 300 and 400. If nearly all of the fuel oil used was of one type, check only the principal type.

Item 12b. Electric Energy During 1954.—Establishments in selected Apparel and Printing and Publishing industries will be required to report in this item only the number of kilowatt hours of electric energy purchased, (the cost of this energy being reported in Item 11d.)

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR CENTRAL POWERPLANTS SERVING TWO OR MORE ESTABLISHMENTS

If a central power plant is identified as a separate establishment for Census reporting purposes, it should be reported on the "Administrative Office and Auxiliary Establishments" Form NC-X6 and the supplemental power plant form, MC-D10. If such a separate report is made for the power plant, the reports for the manufacturing establishments should show all electric energy used under "Purchased" (including electric energy furnished by the central power plant).

If the central power plant is not reported as a separate unit, all electric energy generated by this power plant should be shown on the report for the establishment to which the power plant is attached, or to which it furnishes the greater quantity of electric energy. All electric energy generated but not used at this manufacturing establishment (including transfers to other establishments of the same company) should be reported as electric energy sold. Such electric energy used by other establishments of your company should be shown in their reports as purchased electric energy.

Item 13. Industrial Water Use During 1954.—(See instructions on form.) A selected group of establishments, consisting mainly of those consuming large quantities of water, will be required to supply the following additional detail on water consumed during 1954: total intake during the year distributed by type of use; quantity discharged; quantity recirculated; and quantity treated.

Item 14. Horsepower Rating of Power Equipment at End of 1954.—Include all engines and turbines, such as internal combustion engines (Diesel, gas, gasoline, etc.), steam engines and turbines, hydroturbines, water wheels, and other prime movers. Include both owned and rented equipment for use at this establishment.

Report internal combustion engines and electric motors (1 hp. and over) in use, or available for use, at the plant, including those driving machinery, such as machine tools, compressors, presses, bottling machines, saws, hoists, etc. Include emergency or standby equipment and equipment temporarily idle because in need of repairs; exclude only junk. Both stationary and mobile equipment, except highway-type vehicles, should be included.

In reporting prime movers for electric generators, if the equipment is rated only on the generator, compute the horsepower rating (hp.) of the prime mover by multiplying the kilowatt rating (kw.) by 1.34. If more than one rating is shown on the name plate for an internal combustion engine, report the brake horsepower if available.

Item 15. Inventories of This Establishment.—(This item is omitted from the report forms for the Printing and Publishing industries.)

Where a company operates more than one establishment (i. e., plant, sales branch, retail stores, etc.) the inventories held by each establishment should be included in the establishment's Census report. The balance of the inventories owned by the company but not included in any of the establishment reports (for example, inventories in transit, in separate company or public warehouses, etc.) should be included in the "Administrative Office and Auxiliary Establishments" Form NC-X6. Inventories should be reported at approximate current costs, if feasible; otherwise at book values.

Item 16. Capital Expenditures for This Establishment During 1954 (Exclude expenditures for land).—Capital expenditures cover: New structures and additions (including major alterations, capitalized repairs and improvements) to your plant (whether on contract or by your own forces); new machinery and new equipment; capitalized repairs and improvements to your existing machinery and equipment; and "used" plant and equipment acquired from others. Such expenditures during 1954 may be determined by the following computation: Additions completed during the year, plus construction-in-progress at the end of the year, minus construction-in-progress at the beginning of the year.

Item 16a. New Structures and Additions to Plant.—Report total expenditures during 1954 for new construction, major alterations, capitalized repairs, and improvements of buildings (including all new elevators, cranes, heating and ventilating equipment, essentially a part of the buildings), other fixed structures (such as blast furnaces, brick kilns, fractionating towers, shipways, and similar types of structures), and site improvements (such as roads, docks, tracks, parking lots, fences, utilities, etc.).

Item 16b. New Machinery and New Equipment.—Report total expenditures at this establishment for new production machinery and equipment and other new machinery and equipment. Include new machinery and equipment purchased for replacement purposes, as well as for additions to capacity. Include the value of improvements and capitalized repairs to machinery and equipment. Include all new motors, lathes, punch presses and similar machinery and equipment for use in production, as well as all new office machines and fixtures, furniture, cafeteria and dressing room furnishings, automobiles and trucks and other similar equipment.

Item 16c. Expenditures for Used Plant and Used Equipment Acquired From Others.—Report total expenditures at this establishment for old or existing plant and for second-hand equipment acquired from others (including the U. S. Government).

Items 17, 18, 19, and 20.—(See instructions on form. For Item 17, also see "Special Instructions for Items 11, 12, and 17" above.)

PROVISIONS OF LAW RELATING TO 1954 CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES

(From Title 13 United States Code)

SECTION 131. The Secretary shall take, compile, and publish censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades, service establishments, and transportation (exclusive of means of transportation for which statistics are required by law to be filed with, and are compiled and published by, a designated regulatory body), in the year 1954 and every fifth year thereafter, and each such census shall relate to the year immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, That the censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades and service establishments, directed to be taken in the year 1954 relating to the year 1953, shall be taken instead in the year 1955 relating to year 1954. The censuses provided for in this section shall include the United States and its Territories and such Possessions as the Secretary may determine.

SECTION 224. Whoever, being the owner, official, agent, person in charge, or assistant to the person in charge, of any company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or organization of any nature whatsoever, neglects or refuses, when requested by the Secretary or other authorized officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, whether such request be made by registered mail, by telegraph, by visiting representative, or by one or more of these methods, to answer completely and correctly to the best of his knowledge all questions relating to his company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or other organization, or to records or statistics in his official custody, contained on any census or other schedule prepared and submitted to him under the authority of this title, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than sixty days, or both; and if he willfully gives a false answer to any such question, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 9. (a) Neither the Secretary, nor any other officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, may . . .

(1) use the information furnished under the provisions of this title for any purpose other than the statistical purposes for which it is supplied; or

(2) make any publication whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment or individual under this title can be identified; or
